

Mech Tech College, LLC. & Mech Tech Institute Title IX Office

Annual Report from January to December 2023

Dear Institutional Community,

In this Title IX annual report we present statistical data on formal complaints presented to the Title IX Office as possible sex/gender discrimination under Title IX including those that did not proceed under Title IX violations.

Title IX is the 1972 federal law that prohibits sex/gender discrimination in educational institutions that receive federal funding. This law protects the right of all persons to be discriminated against on the basis of sex from programs, activities, educational events, to be admitted or recruited into employment. 20 U.S.C. § 1681 et seq., 34CFR §§106.21-23, §§106.31-43, §§106.51-61.

The Office of Title IX of Mech Tech College and Mech Tech Institute is committed to maintaining an environment of preventive education in order to keep this educational environment free of situations caused by unwanted sexual conduct. With the commitment of the team of the Office of the Vice President of Student Affairs and its professional Counselors, they work hand in hand with the Title IX Office to educate, guide, attend and investigate promptly, responsibly and confidentially all complaints received based on sex and gender discrimination in all its modalities, providing a fair and transparent process. They have also coordinated or provided a series of educational material, talks, workshops, among others to the student population that covers much more than an orientation for new students. Teachers, administrators and other members of the institutional community have also received both group and individualized guidance on the Title IX Law and the steps to follow in the event of an alleged case of sex/gender discrimination, in any of its modalities. This information is also available through our website. <https://www.mechtech.edu/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/manual-titulo-ix.pdf>

Once the Office of Title IX becomes aware of an alleged case of sex/gender discrimination, it ensures that the alleged victim is and feels safe, protected, and has access to education, resources, and appropriate support while avoiding a hostile environment. The institution has established processes that meet the needs in a timely and equitable manner for both parties involved, always maintaining the confidentiality of those involved, as well as the process.

The information presented in this report consists of all formal complaints received by the Office of Title IX, as well as investigations conducted by the Office of Title IX upon becoming aware of an alleged Title IX case. The information does not contain the names of the parties involved in order to safeguard the confidentiality of the processes. This report covers the period from January 1 to December 31, 2023. Our purpose with this annual report of the Office of Title IX is to raise awareness and expand knowledge of the processes followed by the Office of Title IX so that they feel confident when filing a complaint with our office. The information contained in this report does not correspond to the information reported in the annual report of Campus Crime Statistics, since that report has specific criteria for its reporting.

This report is focused on the processes of sex/gender discrimination related to the study programs and activities at our institution. We hope that this report can encourage any member of the institutional community to raise any concerns they may have experienced or witnessed. For assistance or to report any Title IX-related matters, you may contact the Title IX Coordinator or email titleixcoordinator@mechtech.edu. Feel free to seek guidance by visiting our office.

I. Definitions to be highlighted in Title IX:

1. Discrimination – It is any unfavorable or inferior treatment, undeserved contempt towards a person and/or who may be discriminated against, i.e. separated or mistreated, both physically and mentally, on the basis of: race, gender or sexual orientation, nationality or origin, religion, physical or mental condition, social situation or position, political ideas, economic situation, pregnancy, paternity, etc.
2. Retaliation – It is a form of revenge or punishment response to some type of aggression that seeks to obtain some type of satisfaction for a harm received. Section 106.71 adds as retaliation intimidation, threats, coercion, or discrimination, including charges against an individual for violations of the code of conduct that do not involve sex discrimination or sexual harassment, but arise from the same facts or circumstances as a report or complaint of sex discrimination or sexual harassment with the intent to interfere with the right or privilege secured by Title IX.
3. Sexual Harassment (harassment) Under Title IX- Unwanted conduct of a sexual nature and may include one or more of the following; Quid Pro Quo, unwanted sexual advances, solicitation of unwanted sexual favors by the person receiving it, insinuations and any other expression, whether physical or verbal, that is directed at any person in the institutional community (Administration, Professors, Students, Applicants or Contractors). The Title IX Act, in the new provisions of August 2020, establishes that it adds stalking (which is a pattern of behavior directed at a specific person that has the effect of causing fear for the safety of that person, both of him or of family members or others, causing emotional distress. As defined in the Violence Against Woman Act (VAWA, 2013), which amends the Jeanne Clery Act.) This can occur but is not limited to: unwanted texts, calls, letters or gifts, spying, damaging your property, creating rumors, posting or sending private information including photos of the victim, accessing your emails or electronic accounts. It establishes the following prohibitions under sexual harassment

4. Discrimination on the basis of sex or gender – it is discrimination due to non-conformity with gender stereotypes. This can include the type of unequal treatment of individuals for not conforming to the traditional opinions, roles, and norms assigned to the male or female gender. It is discrimination based on real or perceived sexual diversity, gender identity. (gay, bisexual, asexual, transsexual, transgenic among others).
5. Title IX Coordinator – This is the person designated and registered with the Federal Department of Education, to ensure that all persons affected by the educational services of the institution are aware of the rights of Title IX and to ensure that the institution and its officers comply with the legal obligations of Title IX. It is the responsibility of the Institution to make available to new applicants, students and employees, as well as parents or guardians (if the student is a minor) the contact information of the Title IX Coordinator. This information should also be available on the institution's website.
6. Title IX Investigator – A person designated by the Title IX Coordinator to conduct the investigation of an alleged Title IX complaint and is responsible for informing the Title IX Coordinator of the findings.
7. Professional Counselor (@) – Licensed professional trained to provide services to students and assist them in the process of professional growth.
8. Title IX Complaint – Defined as an allegation that is presented to the Title IX Coordinator or other official Institutional by an individual claiming to have been a victim of any type of discrimination or situation of a sexual nature.
9. Complainant - An individual who submits a written complaint about an alleged discrimination under Title IX.
10. Defendant – Individual who allegedly provoked or carried out some type of discriminatory act under the classification of the Law of Title IX.
11. Dismissal of a Complaint – This is the dismissal of a Title IX complaint on the grounds that the alleged facts filed in a formal complaint include any of the following:
 1. They Do Not Meet the Definition of Sexual Harassment
 2. Occur outside the Institution or the Institution has no control or jurisdiction to take action against the individual who commits the alleged acts.
 3. Occurs outside the territory of the United States.
 4. If the complainant withdraws the formal complaint voluntarily.
 5. There is not enough evidence to continue the investigation (in this case the institution can proceed with the application of institutional policies and their regulations.)
 6. The individual has no ties to the institution because he or she is not enrolled or is an employee or independent contractor.

12. Mediation Process – As part of a Title IX complaint resolution process, the mediation process can be conducted where both parties have to agree to dialogue in the presence of the mediator and accept accountability and apologies. This requires both parties to request and agree to it in writing.
13. Live Hearing – This is the process at the request of one of the parties involved or the institution to request that the complaint be heard in person or virtually, in real time. This process requires that it be recorded or transcribed, and it must be available to both parties if they wish to review it. The parties shall have the right to bring an adviser for questioning the other party. The person coordinating the hearing is responsible for making the decision on the case and will make a report with the necessary recommendations and submit it to the Title IX Coordinator.
14. Title IX Formal Complaint – Written and signed statement (physical or digital) about situation/incident that occurred in violation of policy. For these purposes, the institution has provided the use of a document known as: form: MTC-TITLE IX-001 Precincts in Puerto Rico and MTI – TITLE IX – 001 for the Orlando Precinct. (Section 34 C.F.R. § 106.44)
15. Institutional Community – It is the group of people who influence and are affected by the same educational environment (students, family members, employees, whether administrative, teachers, contractors or any other.)
16. Title IX Complaint Jurisdiction – The alleged sexual harassment must have occurred on or off the institution when the institution has substantial control of the complainant, under a program of study or during an activity in the United States, including Puerto Rico. Not excluding the use of distance learning platforms. (Section 34 C.F.R. § 106.44(g) Title IX shall protect students as well as employees by providing that they they must be active members of the institutional community.
